Vijayrao Naik College of Pharmacy, Shirval, Kankavli, proudly organized a Faculty Development Program (FDP) on the highly relevant and contemporary topic — “Teaching Gen-Z in a Digital World.” The FDP aimed at equipping faculty members with innovative strategies, tools, and digital methodologies tailored to meet the unique learning styles and expectations of the Gen-Z learners.

The session was graced by esteemed speakers:

1. Mr. Sachin Kumbhoje, an expert in digital pedagogy and youth engagement
2. Mr. Vishwajeet Kashid, a renowned trainer in educational technology and modern teaching methods

Their insightful presentations provided the attendees with practical approaches to:

1. Understand the learning behavior of Gen-Z students
2. Integrate digital tools for interactive teaching
3. Foster student engagement in virtual and hybrid classrooms
4. Address attention challenges and digital distractions in young learners

The program was conducted under the esteemed presence of:

1. Dr. Raman Bane, Secretary
2. Mr. Mandar Sawant, Managing Trustee
3. Dr. Rajesh Jagtap, Principal
4. Dr. Amol Ubale, Vice-Principal
5. Mr. Amar Kulkarni, Head of Department (B. Pharmacy)

Their guidance, motivation, and vision towards academic excellence added great value to the event.

The program was smoothly coordinated by:

1. Ms. Nikhat S. Maindargi
2. Ms. Namita S. Sagvekar

Also the event hosted by

1. Ms. Neha N. Gurav

The session witnessed enthusiastic participation from faculty members who actively interacted, shared experiences, and expressed appreciation for the relevance of the topic. The FDP concluded with a vote of thanks by Vice-Principal Dr. Amol Tanaji Ubale, emphasizing the institution’s commitment to continuous learning and adapting to the evolving educational ecosystem.
