CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

The government has taken the initiative to ensure that everyone in the nation has access to affordable pharmaceuticals of all kinds. The government is creating generic drug stores to do this. Pharmaceutical graduates are the skilled labour force needed to develop such very effective and reasonably priced medications. In Konkan, a relatively undeveloped region of Maharashtra, there are fewer colleges providing this kind of education than you can count on one hand. As Maharashtra's pharmaceutical education initiative gains traction, the state's rural population should also be considered. Private pharmacy institutions should be established in rural areas to cultivate rural talent, as 70% of the population lives there. To meet the industry needs outlined in the government's strategy, the rural population must be technologically educated. Pharmacy education in the Konkan region will be critical to the state's success in creating and producing technical professionals in both quantitative and qualitative terms, as well as contributing to the state's economic prosperity. With this in mind, we established Vijayrao Naik College of Pharmacy at Shirval in the year 2019. It is fully equipped with the necessary infrastructure and facilities. Please come to our campus. We are ready to help you develop a successful pharmacy career.

VICE-CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Government has taken the initiative for providing all types of medicines to each and every individual of the country at an affordable cost. In order to achieve this, generic medical stores are being opened up by the government. Developing such highly effective and affordable medicines requires a skilled man-power in the form of Pharmacy graduates. The number of colleges offering such education is less as to count on fingers in Konkan which is relatively less developed part of Maharashtra. As the pharma-education program in Maharashtra is gaining momentum; rural population of the state should also be taken into consideration for the same. For future development, private pharmacy colleges should come up to develop rural talent and have a set up in the rural part, as 70% population is the rural population. To meet industry need as per Government's plan as above; rural part must be technically educated. Pharmacy Education in Konkan region will be a major key to the state's success in developing and generating technical professionals quantitatively as well as qualitatively and to contribute to the socio- economy status of the state. With this in mind, we have set up Vijayrao Naik College of Pharmacy at Shirval in 2019. It is well equipped with the required infrastructure and facilities. Please visit our campus. We are ready to build your future in pharmacy.

SECRETARY'S MESSAGE

The number of pharmacy colleges offering bachelor's degrees in Maharashtra is fast increasing in order to meet the growing demand for technically skilled workers as the state's industrialization and infrastructure development accelerates. The professional field of pharmacy is becoming more and more important as there is an increasing demand for drugs that are both effective and have minimal side effects. Every day, pharma technology develops; therefore, one must study and conduct studies about changing pharma technology in order to discover novel and more sophisticated processes that will contribute to the nations and industries social-economic growth. There is an increasing demand for pharma professionals with extensive knowledge in the field of pharmacy, which can be met by both graduate and diploma programs. Hence, we began with both programs. We are preparing with the goal of providing industry-ready, professional pharma graduates who can fulfil societal needs.
